Note: For courses numbered below 2000 (courses primarily for undergraduates), graduate students must complete the designated graduate-level requirements.

1. Graduate Proseminar (WGS 2000)

2. Theory Foundation course (WGS 1210)

Two other courses selected from among graduate courses (or upper-level seminars) taught by members of the Committee on Degrees in Studies of WGS, or other graduate courses in the field (including courses offered by the Graduate Consortium in Women's Studies), as deemed appropriate by the WGS director of graduate studies in consultation with the student. These courses may be used to satisfy departmental requirements. (Students may petition to have courses from another department or program count toward the secondary field. Petition forms are available in the WGS office.)

4.

5. Service as salaried teaching fellow for one semester in a course offered by WGS faculty (or in another course approved by the director of graduate studies).

6. Article length paper of publishable quality. (This can be a chapter of the dissertation.)

Please attach a copy of your CV to this form and submit it to the director of graduate studies.
